

Our network is expanding. In recent years, KZR's founding partners and its successors (former KZR associates) have also managed to build relationships and collaborate with other individuals and organizations who share in our passion for developing the human factor with equal intensity.

To keep pace with our expanding world of possibilities, kZR.ca was created to serve as a reference website.

In short, KZR.ca is a meeting place in cyberspace for organizations and individuals committed to contributing in some way to a mega-vision.